Who's Who Picks Nine Loyola Seniors

Nine seniors have been chosen to represent Loyola College in the 1954-1955 Edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges And Universities. These were chosen for superior scholastic achievement and active participation in extra-curricular activities.

Chosen were T. Howland Sanks, James P. Durkan, G. Lee Russo, J. Raymond Gaeng, Ralston B. Russell, William J. Kernan, Jr., William R. Taymans, James R. Quimper, and John J. Phillips.

Editor of Greyhound

Sanks has been outstanding scholastically for all four years. He is vice-president of the Student Council, Editor of the Greyhound, president of TKA and vice-president of the Debating Society.

Russo winner of the Palma Nobilis Medal for Latin for three years, and the Ryan Gold Medal for the highest overall average in Freshman year. He is now Activities Editor of the Yearbook.

Gaeng has been active in dramatics and Student Council activities. He is president of ASN, the Jesuit Honor Fraternity.

Russell has been active in the Sodality and many scientific clubs on campus. He is now president of the Glee Club.

Taymans is a member of the Dramatics Society, the History Academy and various other activities. He has won numerous R.O.T.C. awards and is Commanding Officer of the Pershing Rifles Drill Team.

Durkan has been an active Sodality member. He is now a Student Council officer and Editor-in-Chief of the Yearbook.

Quimper is an active member of the Dramatics Society and is now president of the History Academy.

Dies, Sheed Slated For Gorman Talks

Mr. Frank J. Sheed and Congressman Martin Dies will lecture here in March as part of the Gorman Lecture Series which is sponsored annually by the Loyola chapter of Alpha Sigma Nu. Also engaged for one of the lectures, is Charles A. Flecher, a noted Baltimore author.

Mr. Sheed is president of the publishing house of Sheed and Ward, Inc., and is the author of many books and articles. He is also in charge of training members of the Catholic Evidence Guild in London and has done quite a bit of work in this field.

Congressman Dies was chairman of an investigating committee of the House of Representatives during the 1940's and has had much experience with Communism and Congressional investigations. He is a Democrat from Texas.

The three lectures are scheduled for March 13, 20 and 27. Tickets will be sold for the entire series at the price of $1.50. Tickets for individual lectures will be $1.00 each.

Annual Concert And Dance Planned For Feb. 5 By Glee Club

Tickets are now on sale for the Glee Club's Fourth Annual Concert and Dance, to be held in conjunction with the Georgetown Visitation Academy of Washington on Saturday, February 5, at 8:30 p.m. in Cohn Auditorium.

Price of admission is one dollar per person, and tickets may be purchased from members of the Glee Club, the Student Council or at the door.

Loyola soloists will be pianist G. Lee Russo, who will play Variations On a Theme of Paganini, and tenor Ed Birrane, who will sing Because.

Dance Follows

A record dance will be held in Xavier Lounge following the concert. Refreshments will be served at that time.

Preceeding the concert, a buffet supper will be served for the performers in the Lounge at 6:00.

Under the direction of Felice Iula, the program will feature the following: Ranger Song, In a Monastary Garden, Onedin, Great Day, Drums in My Heart, You'll Never Walk Alone, Rock O' My Soul, Steal Away and Battle Hymn of the Republic.

The choral group from Visitation Academy, a junior college, is the fourth to visit Evergreen for this affair. Others have been Trinity College, Mt. St. Agnes and St. Joseph's of Emmitsburg.

Emperor's Doll and Mardi-Gras

The Emperor's Doll, a one-act play, will be presented by the Mask and Rapier Society, February 18, in Cohn Auditorium. A dance will follow.

Japanese Fantasy

Since this is a Japanese play, it will be done in a semi-Kabuki style as regards the makeup and stage sets.

As a preview, John Kuhn, president of the Mask and Rapier Society, has revealed that The Emperor's Doll is a fantasy about a doll-maker who fashions a life-sized doll for the Emperor and then falls in love with it when the doll comes to life. Several girls from Mt. St. Agnes will be included in the cast, with Kitty Kelly in the title role.

Costume Dance

Following the play, which will last only thirty minutes, will be a Mardi-Gras Dance. The dance will be night club style, two couples at a table, with costumes required for members of the Mask and Rapier Society, and optional, though heartily suggested, for all others.

The play will begin at 8:30, with the dance lasting until one. Tickets will go on sale at two dollars per couple.

Cast To Go To Georgetown

After their one night stand in Cohn, the Doll cast will travel to Georgetown to compete on February 21 in a one-act play contest against Scranton, St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, and Georgetown. The winner for the Maryland area will then go to Fordham.

Annual Block L Dance After St. Mary's Tilt

This Saturday evening Loyola's Lettermen will doff their customary sweaters for the less casual attire associated with an evening of basketball watching, and dancing. The occasion is the annual Block "L" Dance, one of the brighter dates on the College's social calendar according to Bill Phillips.

Dancing will commence in Cohn Hall to the music of The Reds Popoli Quintet immediately following the game wtih Mt. St. Mary's and will last until one o'clock. Tickets can be purchased from any Block "L" member or Booster for $2.30. This, together with a Student Book, entitles a couple to both the game and the dance. The dress will be informal and Mass will be said in the Chapel at 1:15 a.m.

Mountaineer Foe

"The evening promises to offer the best in well-balanced entertainment, a rugged game with Loyola's traditional basketball rival, followed by a full evening of music and dancing to relax the many strained nerves which always result when the Greyhounds clash with the Mountaineers of St. Mary's," said Phillips.

The financial goal, declared Block "L" president Bill Phillips, is enough money to begin a scholarship fund to bring academic or sports talent to Loyola. With this aim in view, a green and grey blanket is being offered to the man who sells the most tickets.

ROTC To Chose Queen Of Ball

The Loyola College ROTC will hold its third annual Military Ball in the Evergreen Gym on Saturday, January 29. Once again the Second Army Dance Orchestra will be on hand to provide the music for dancing from 9 until 1.

Dress will be formal, with the cadets wearing full uniform. Tickets may be purchased from class representatives for three dollars. This price includes both the cost of admission and refreshments.

Crowning of the Queen

Highlight of the evening's entertainment will be the crowning of the Queen of the Ball, who will have been chosen from a list of seven candidates. Six of these finalists are from various colleges and nursing schools in the Baltimore area. They were chosen by a special committee of judges. The seventh will be chosen from among the many girls whose pictures have been submitted in the ROTC photo contest.

Gold Cup

Last year's Queen will present the new Queen with a large gold cup. The new Queen will pass on this cup to next year's winner. As a memento of the occasion, the Queen will also receive a smaller cup.

In addition, the Queen of the Ball will be made Honorary Regimental Commander.

Only 225 Tickets Available

Bill Taymans, Captain of the Pershing Rifles, urges students to purchase their tickets early, since there will be only 225 available. This is approximately a hundred less tickets than there are students in the ROTC.

For the first time, the dance is being sponsored jointly by the Pershing Rifles and the Scabbard and Blade, the honorary military fraternity. Co-chairmen are Jack Doetzer, George Lewis and Bill Taymans.

From these six candidates one will be picked as Queen of the Military Ball on January 29.

Fr. Love, Former Professor, Dies

The Rev. Thomas J. Love, S.J., who taught physics at Loyola College from 1927 until 1938, died suddenly of a heart attack on the morning of January 2. Father Love had taught at Loyola High School, Loyola College, Woodstock College, and Georgetown University.

He was born in 1891 in Philadelphia. He received his education at Catholic High School and St. Joseph's College, Philadelphia. He started his theological studies at St. Andrew-on-Hudson and came to Loyola High School to teach as a scholastic in 1917.

Ordained in 1923

In 1941 he was made the first rector of the new St. Joseph's College.

Father Love was transferred to Georgetown in 1944 where, until 1953, he taught physics and moderated the Student Council. He was Superior of Old St. Joseph's Church from 1953 until his unexpected death on January 2.

League, Tourneys, Set For Speakers

Preparations for attendance at three debate tournaments are presently claiming the attention of the Debating Society members. In addition, it has been announced that Loyola College is the only school to come through the first round of Cardinal Gibbons Debate League activity undefeated.

Three debate tournaments will be held in the first part of February. Two of the three have never before been attended by Loyola. The Tau Kappa Alpha Debate Tournament at New York University will be held on February 4 and 5. Attending will be debaters Sam Ady, Jerry Frese, John Tormey and Wayne White.

In Hopkins Tournament

Loyola will once again take part in the Johns Hopkins Tourney, which will also be held the weekend of February 4-5. Veteran debaters Hal Sanks and Jim O'Hara will represent Loyola.

Four debaters will journey to Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, on February 19. Taking part there in the Kings College Tournament will be Dan Fall, Bob Heymann, Dan Mackey and Paul Rogers.

Loyola took part in three League debates in December. The debaters defeated teams from Georgetown, Trinity, and Catholic U., the last by forfeit. This brought the first round of deabte to a close.

The debaters went afield twice during December to attend debate tournaments. Four teams of novice debaters went to the Temple U. Novice Tournament, December 4. One team, composed of Wayne White and Jerry Frese, came through the tournament undefeated. Loyola reached the finals in the Hall of Fame Tourney at N.Y.U. The debaters took sixth place in a field of thirty, although they had the second highest total point score of the tournament.

Georgetown Wins

First team in the field was the amazing young team from Georgetown. The Hoya speakers amassed a total of 307 points. Loyola was second in point-score with 295 points. The showing by Loyola was the best the Bellarmine debaters have made in the past three years.

Besides tournament and league debates the Greyhound teams met Hopkins in four debates on January 13. Paul Rogers and Dan Mackey upheld the affirmative in the varsity debate held in Xavier Lounge; Bob Heymann and Dan Fall were the Loyola participants in the negative varsity contest in Levering Hall at Hopkins.

Novice Debates Also Held

In two novice debates with Hopkins the same day, Wayne White and Jerry Frese upheld the affirmative, and Tom Burch and Vince Cucina defended the negative. Loyola's record in the two varsity debates was one win and one cancellation.

In other developments on the public speaking scene, Hal Sanks, president of the Gibbons Debating League, has announced that the league will sponsor a forensic tournament at the end of March. Sanks also noted that the league was functioning well during its second year of operation.

League Meeting Set

Eight schools are participating in the league activity, and only one school withdrew from debating because of the topic of recognition of Red China. A meeting of the league members will take place at Georgetown School of Foreign Service on February 6. Loyola will be represented by delegates Hal Sanks and John Tormey, along with alternates Jim O'Hara and Paul Rogers.

Debaters are looking forward to the second half activities.

Hamilton Named As Junior Prom Combo

Carl Hamilton's orchestra (ten pieces and a vocalist) has been selected to do the honors the night of Friday, April 22, at the 1955 edition of the Junior Prom, the biggest social event of the Junior year.

Co-chairmen Wayne White and Tom Ferciot are asking 100% cooperation in order to make the dance a complete success.

Dick Barranger, who is in charge of soliciting patrons, requested that members of the Junior Class contact their parents well in advance about patron donations.

Ticket-man Jack Doetzer has announced the tentative price at $5 per couple. Tickets should be out by the third week in March in order to allow ample time for saving up money.

The program for the dance will be handled by Larry D'Orazio and John Tormey.

College Grapples With Barnes, Wins First Fray

Not long ago, "No Parking" signs were seen on Cold Spring Lane, just east of Charles street. Mr. Henry A. Barnes, Traffic Director, had ordered them to be erected in order to facilitate the flow of traffic on Cold Spring Lane.

Because of the inconvenience that would be caused the students, the College authorities, hearing that the signs were going to be erected, protested the action.

Mr. Barnes then cancelled the directive, but for some unknown reason, everyone was told that the signs were not to be erected except the work team which was supposed to put the signs up. When the College authorities saw that the signs had been erected, they again protested and the signs were removed.

City Council To Act

However, the matter does not stop here. An ordinance will be introduced in the City Council to direct the erection of the "No Parking" signs. A representative of the College has been asked to appear to present reasons for not erecting the signs.

If the Council decides that these reasons are sufficient, the signs will not be put up. If not, then parking on Cold Spring Lane will be forbidden in the near future.

Xaverian Order Honored By Essay

The Whiteford Gold Medal will be awarded this year to the senior student, majoring in History or Political Science, who submits the best essay on "The Contribution of the Xaverian Brothers to Christian Education in the Archdiocese of Baltimore.

Those who have given their names to Dr. Harry W. Kirwin should have seen him to get information about the required bibliography and should have turned in to him an outline before Thursday, December 16.

A first copy of the essay should be given to Doctor Kirwin by February 15, 1955. The final copy must be in by March 15, 1955. At least three essays must be submitted before the medal, which was founded by Miss Celinda Whiteford, can be awarded.

The topic was chosen this year in order to pay honor to the Xaverian Brothers, teachers at Mount Saint Joseph High School. The brothers are celebrating the one-hundredth anniversary of the arrival of their order in this country.

Fr. Hauber Tinkers With TV, Time and Test Tubes

For those whom chance brings into contact with him, Father Edward S. Hauber, S.J., never ceases to be an object of admiration and wonder; admiration for a humble priest of God, wonder at an almost boundless energy and enthusiasm.

A native of Bound Brook, N.J., he attended Xavier High School in New York. He entered the Society in 1922 at St. Andrew-on-Hudson. The last two years of his Regency were spent at Loyola, and he was ordained on June 23, 1935.

Rev. Edward S. Hauber, S.J.

After his Tertianship, he studied biochemistry at Georgetown and, after taking his M.S. at Holy Cross, taught at the University of San Francisco in the summer of 1941.

Arriving at Loyola in 1942, Father Hauber immediately took over as Chairman of the Chemistry Department, a post he has held for the last thirteen years.

As a young man he developed a love for music and plays the violin and clarinet. With a band, he played in several of the Keith's Theatres in New York and aboard warships between New York and Boston after the First World War.

T.V. Repairman

In the classroom and laboratory, his students find him exacting and devoted to his work. He, in turn, takes just pride in the large number of chemistry majors and pre-meds who have passed through his hands and gone on to make names for themselves in their respective fields.

One of his most well known activities around the campus is his watch and T.V. repairing. At his work bench he puts many a worn out and delicate instrument back into commission.

Recent Adventure

He has had a number of scientific papers published, among them The Analysis of Candles and several works on picrates.

Among his more recent tasks was the organizing of the Faeroe Island venture. The eclipse gazing point in the Faeroes involved more difficulties than most of the stations located around the world, instrument-wise as well as in the large number of personal contacts that had to be made to insure coordination among the many people involved.

Father Hauber was selected because of his technical skill and ability to meet and get the cooperation of other men.

After considering his accomplishments as priest, scientist, teacher, public relations man extraordinary, watch repairman and musician, we find it a bit difficult to accept his critique of himself: "just the ordinary things, you know."

Gaeng Boosts Loyola On TV

Ray Gaeng represented Loyola College on a program entitled "College Calling", sponsored by the Catholic Television Guild of Wilmington, Delaware, Sunday, January 9. The purpose of the program is to aid Catholic high school students to choose a good Catholic college.

Gaeng, an English major and president of Alpha Sigma Nu, presented information concerning Loyola's accreditation, courses and the degrees offered by the College. Pictures were shown of the campus, classrooms, and members of the faculty.

Liberal Foundation

In response to questions by members of the studio audience, Ray explained the need for a liberal education and warned that the students should not be swayed by the trend toward scientific specialization, but must first seek to form a broad foundation for their studies.

In concluding, Ray expressed the hope that the students would grasp all the opportunities of their college education and choose a Catholic college.

Greyhounds Shine On Video Programs

Several Loyola students, along with Dr. Harry W. Kirwin, participated in a television show on WBAL-TV on Sunday, January 9. The program, part of the station's TV Campus series, featured Dr. Kirwin's new book as its theme.

Hal Sanks, Jim O'Hara, Sam Ady and George Nellies discussed with Dr. Kirwin the trials and tribulations of a textbook author, a theme made appropriate by the coming publication of the book Conceived In Liberty, a high school American history text.

The program was moderated by WBAL announcer Sanford Mervis.

In addition to those on the WBAL program, another Loyola face was seen on the TV screen in the same week. Popular AA president, Bill Phillips, appeared on a nation-wide program from New York.

The "I've Got a Secret" show paid Phillips' way to the big city to tell his secret to a few million people while the four celebrities on the panel tried to guess what the secret was. For the benefit of those who didn't watch in, Bill admitted that he had lost his shorts in the midst of a basketball game.

Freshman Swamp Polls To Elect Class Officers

From the recent Freshman Elections, one of the closest held on the campus, Rudy DeSantis emerged as the victorious presidential candidate, one vote ahead of Dave Shaffer who polled sixty-four of the 182 votes cast. Shaffer automatically became second in command.

In the race for treasurer, two votes decided the issue. Mitch Twardowicz pulled down sixty to top Knowles Ambrose's fifty-eight.

Race Close

The outcome of the contest for the office of secretary was likewise very close. Bill Reuther pulling ahead of the defeated George Nellies by a scant three votes, for a total of eighty-eight votes out of 173 cast for this office.

The newly elected men took office immediately.

The 182 ballots cast represent approximately eighty-seven percent of the Class, an excellent turn-out.

Publication of the results found most people content and/or resigned. From one quarter, however, was heard a considerable amount of grumbling; namely, from the election chairmen who were heard complaining for the rest of the week about having to count so many ballots, so many times.

Topics Chosen By Math Club

The Mathematics Club has planned a series of lecture programs with which to round out the year. All meetings are held in Xavier Lounge at 7:30 p.m.

First in this series will be "When Geometry and Calculus Meet", on March 6, with Professor Stanley B. Jackson, Head of the Department of Mathematics at the University of Maryland.

Hopkins Man To Speak

On February 6, "The Use of Vectors in Analytic Geometry" will be presented by Professor W. K. Morrill of the Mathematics Department of Johns Hopkins University.

"Oddities in the History of Mathematics" will be presented by Father Matthew Thekaekara, S.J., of Convert University, Madras, India. Father Thekaekara is currently studying for his Doctorate in Theoretical Physics at Johns Hopkins.

Jim Long, president of the club has pointed out that the meetings are conducted in an informal atmosphere. Under the guidance of Fr. Koehler, the club has gained city wide recognition.

Russo Collects Medals; Wunder Ace Hitch-hiker

● WUNDER

In the aura of tenseness that surrounds us today, it's a relief to find someone who seems to be eternally relaxed in everything that he does. And such a someone is Charles A. Wunder, Esq., soon to be B.S. and 2nd Lieut.

Charlie came to the College from Loyola High, where he was noted for his outstanding enthusiasm for all school activities. He was mainspring in the school's Boosters Club when that organization was at its peak of activity. During those high school days, Charlie also became renowned as the undisputed hitch-hiking champion.

Feature Editor

The Evergreen climate has evidently not dampened his enthusiasm. During basketball games he can be found out front energetically soliciting noise from the all-too-often silent crowds. Other activities evoke equal enthusiasm.

Loyal Greyhound readers will recall Charlie's fine feature writing, which can always be counted on to provide some hearty laughs. He is, of course, Feature Editor of the 1954-55 editions.

Proving that his sharpness of eye matched his sharpness of wit, Charlie became one of the top scoring members of the newly formed Rifle Team. He received a special award from the ROTC for his accomplishments.

2nd Lt. Soon

At graduation, Charlie will receive his commission as a Second Lieutenant in the U.S. Army. And, if he is as good an officer as he is a college man, then Loyola's "draft bait" need have no fears about being assigned to serve under Second Lieutenant Charles A. Wunder; it would be a pleasure.

● RUSSO

If you ever see a man playing the piano, translating a passage of Latin, performing a Chemistry experiment and cutting up a frog at the same time, the odds are two to one that it is Loyola's own Lee Russo, one of the most diversified men on campus.

Lee graduated from Loyola High in 1951. While at Blakefield, he was a consistent honor student and a regular participant in extracurricular activities, notably the Sodality and the Blue and Gold, Loyola's quarterly magazine.

A.B. Pre-Med

At Evergreen, Lee enrolled in what is sometimes affectionately called the "cut-throat course," namely, the A.B. Pre-Med. However, in the four years that he has been here, his throat seems to have remained in good shape. And, at the same time, he has compiled a list of accomplishments which anyone would envy.

For example, it is rumored that the authorities are seriously considering changing the name of the Palma Nobilis competitive Latin exam to the "Lee Russo" exam. Lee has taken the medal three years running.

In his junior year he was elected president of the Mendel Club, an organization devoted to the study of biology.

Piano Player Plus

Lest anyone think that there isn't a light side to Lee's personality, let it be said that his original and professional style of piano playing has been a source of enjoyment to many over the years. Gershwin and George Shearing are among his favorites.

After graduation, Lee will wend his way to medical school. All, of course, wish him luck, although by now, some are beginning to wonder if this guy even needs it.

Quarterly Plans Spring Edition

Appearing for the second time this school year, the Evergreen Quarterly was released January 6.

Friday, February 2, has been set as the tentative deadline for the next issue. Included will be the conclusion of the story "Kaleidoscope of War" by Manfred Segall, which is continued from the Autumn issue.

NFCCS Offers Student Tours

The NFCCS announces that once again the Catholic Youth Travel Office will conduct student tours in Europe. They have arranged several extremely low-priced, attractive tours next summer, covering forty, fifty or sixty days of travel. Every expense—ocean transportation, meals, sightseeing, etc. round-trip from New York is included in the fee.

A visit to the Vatican, Rome, Paris, and the shrines of Fatima and Lourdes are a few of the highlights planned for 1955. A priest will act as spiritual leader and chaperon for each thirty students.

Free Trip

All accommodations abroad are carefully checked and approved in advance. The CYTO is offering a few special inducements this year. They are giving a free trip to anyone persuading thirty students to join him, two-thirds off for twenty students and one-third off the regular fare for ten students. If anyone is interested he should contact Larry Awalt, senior NFCCS delegate. Mike Leaken, may also be contacted.

Also in the offing for NFCCS is the 1954-55 Baltimore-Washington Regional Conference slated for March 26, when students and delegates from the thirteen colleges of the region will assemble at Notre Dame of Maryland College.

On this occasion commission heads in the area will conduct panels showing how the national theme, "The Return of All Things to Christ", applies to various extra-curricular activities.

Editorials

To The Freshman Class Officers . . .

. . . recently elected, we give our sincerest congratulations. We are confident that they will give this excellent class the leadership that it needs to contribute its share to the success of all Loyola College activities.

This compliment to the Freshman Class is by way of introduction to a criticism of some of the other classes. To be specific, we mean the Junior Class. Recently, the Junior Class sponsored a dance known as "The Half-Way Hop". We should say that it was "The Half-Way Flop". At the end of last year, the juniors requested this opportunity to add some funds to their treasury. The Social Activities Committee went to some length to convince the College administration that this new dance was warranted. If the juniors needed money (and every class does in Senior year), why not give them an opportunity to earn some as long as it would not hurt another organization or any well-established dance? Hence, the early part of January was selected since it was free from competition. There is only one excuse for the lack of success that "The Half-Way Hop" enjoyed—the juniors did not work at it. The tickets did not come out until after the holidays, and then there was practically no sales campaign.

We do not mind the failure of the dance to make money for the juniors, for it is their own fault, they are the ones who suffer on that score. What we do object to, however, is the fact that one bad dance can discourage people from attending subsequent ones. This is not fair to the other dances. Furthermore, any future requests for new dances in order to make money will be frowned upon by the College authorities —and rightly so! For this we believe that the Junior Class deserves censure.

We Hate To Keep Harping . . .

. . . on the same old line, but the situation that exists in the Cafeteria warrants such repetition. Obviously, facilities are limited and more room is needed; but that is not the major difficulty. The condition in which it is kept and the products available there are the main sore spots. New trash cans were put in but not used. Coke bottles and spilled coffee still litter the tables. This situation the students can remedy by replacing used Coke bottles and taking dirty dishes and trays back to the kitchen. But, they say, "Where should we put them? That little table in the hallway is always crowded." We might suggest that the tables that are abutting the outside wall be used for this purpose. This would eliminate that crowded aisle as you leave the serving area and would make the place for used dishes more accessible. Hence, it might encourage the students to cooperate.

Last "First Friday" when Mass was over at about nine twenty, the Cafeteria was absolutely barren of buns, doughnuts, etc. by nine thirty-five. No provisions were set up in Xavier Lounge for the seniors and juniors as had been previously agreed upon. The responsibility for this lies squarely with the Slater System, which, we note in the Temple University News, provides music and flowers for the Temple Cafeteria. Furthermore, they say that the food is delicious. We wonder if it is the same organization.

We Hope That The Editorial . . .

. . . in the last issue pertaining to the permissability of using the national intercollegiate debate topic for this year, stimulated enough thought to make you wonder just what the debate centers around. Some people probably believe that there could be no logical argument whatsoever for the affirmative, while others really do not see what difference it makes. The topic is, as you know, Resolved: That the United States should extend diplomatic recognition to the Communist Government of China. We ask you to consider a few of the arguments that are presented now, and make up your own mind on this open question.

Many of the Asian peoples are wondering why we recognize other Communist governments in the world and yet do not give formal recognition to the only Asian country that has a strong, but Communist, government. They can only surmise that we refuse this because they are Asian. This, obviously does not help our Far Eastern policy. On the other hand, should we give diplomatic recognition to a country that has been branded as an aggressor by the United Nations and who even now holds Americans in its prisons? Will non-recognition develop into a source of serious irritation between the U.S. and her allies, or will recognition and abondonment of firm support of Chiang dangerously lower the free nations' respect for us? These are questions that one must consider before forming a correct opinion.

Beard Banished By Modern Mores Seen As Bad Business

by Charles A. Wunder

Once upon a time, the sight of a beard was a sure sign that there was a man on the premises. With face festooned with hairy foliage, the Nineteenth Century man spent little time worrying about razor burns or new model mustache-cups.

In fact, he associated this slight regression to barbarity as a portent of the intellectual progress descending on the country in the form of brass bathtubs, telegraph lines and nickel beers. He was proud of his beard, and found it useful for unannounced calls by the parson or landlord when he wished to conceal a grin, grimace or growl.

Of course the beard had its faults too. One that was allowed to become enmeshed in the soup, or fall victim to a short but hot cigar, soon lost its symmetry and character. The fleas would swarm to its savory warmth and a good washing was necessary before peace of mind returned. A wiry beard could spell death to a romance and an overly soft growth would fall victim to the wind currents.

Life was somewhat easier in those days. Estimating that the average cuticle - conscious man spends fifteen minutes per day scraping his face with sundry implements in various states of mechanization, it requires only minor math to discover the inherent waste in today's morés. In a lifetime of seventy years, over two hundred days could be added to man's collective sleep. The extra sleep would add another five years to life expectancy, but by this time he's tired of rocking.

A Nasty Plot

It is interesting to note that the people who brought about this change are the same people who devised the alarm clock and the button on shirt collars. Seeing humanity spending too much time in barberships or leisurely whiling away the hours over a cracker barrel, these spoil-sports decided to end the—millennium.

They began by breaking up the quartets and doing away with the cracker. The men descended to the local barroom, but Carrie Nation & Co. put an end to this. Soon the male had no place to be indigenous to.

And Teddy Too

Wives organized anti-beard associations; ministers tired of hearing clandestine snores (some resourceful churchgoers allowed their facial hair hide their eyes), and finally, as if to add official sanction to the plot, Teddy Roosevelt started shaving.

Soon the pressure became so great, that crowds of barbers swelled on the corners peddling apples and unsharpened pencils. But just as America was about to experience another repression, a fellow by the name of Gillete popularized shaving by painting his blades blue.

Fr. Gibbons Speaks To Philosophers

The Rev. William J. Gibbons, S.J., Director of the Library, was main speaker at the Regional Meeting of the American Catholic Philosophical Association on January 7.

Father Gibbons spoke on the topic, "Population-Resource Problems; Some Ethical Implications."

The meeting was one of several held annually in the Baltimore-Washington area and attended by professors of Philosophy and various graduate students in the vicinity.

Dr. Rosenberg Presides

Members of the panels for which Father Gibbons spoke were Dr. Eva J. Ross, of Trinity College, and Rocco Piecero, of Georgetown.

The meeting was arranged and directed by Dr. Jean Rosenberg, member of the faculty of Notre Dame of Maryland and also of the Loyola Evening Division. Dr. Rosenberg also presided.

Grapplers Drop Meet To Gallaudet

Loyola's wrestling team lost its opening match to Gallaudet by a score of 40-0. Demonstrating the reason why they are co-defending champions with Hopkins, the Washingtonians pinned every man on the Greyhound squad. Four Hounds weathered the first round, but none could go the distance.

Coach Frank Christ quickly points out that the fine condition of the Gallaudet squad produced the one-sided victory. He cautions that he does not mean that his grapplers were not in shape, but that Gallaudet is a boarding college where most students spend the Christmas holidays. Their wrestling team, therefore, had a full two to three weeks' practice advantage on the Hounds and they lost little time showing it.

Match Postponed

The match scheduled for last Saturday with Western Maryland has been postponed because the gym was not available for the event. The Hounds' match with Catholic U. has been put off due to exams this week. American U., then, will be the Green and Grey's next opponent. They will wrestle on Saturday, the 29th.

The layoff could be very beneficial for Loyola. Vince Kelly, sidelined with deficiencies may be able to wrestle after the exams. If this is true, the Hounds will have one of the best in the country on their side. It should make a big difference, not only in the outcome of the score, but also in the players morale.

Conference Powers

As usual, Baltimore U., has another good wrestling team. From their showing up to this date, it seems that they are about the best in the conference. Other good teams are; Towson State Teachers, Gallaudet and Johns Hopkins.

Burke Back

Two seasoned veterans who should be winning before long are Paul Burke and Paul Flynn. Backing these two are such veterans as Tom Dond, Larry D'Orazio, John McCann, and Bill Schamehorn. Les Purcell, sick for the Gallaudet match, had to forfeit. Wiry John Votta, a 150 pounder, will spell Jack McCann every other match. Vince Kelly, wrestling the books for a while, may join the team after the exams.

After the match Coach Christ had just one word of complaint. He said that there are many former high school wrestlers at Loyola, yet they make no attempt to wrestle at college. And there is no reason for it. The league is small, with few good wrestlers. Any student, therefore, has an excellent chance of becoming a conference champion if he is willing to work at the sport. Jack Small is a typical example. Coach Christ says that he has improved more rapidly than any other man on the squad. Against Gallaudet, he lasted almost two full periods, although it was the first time that he had ever wrestled. The team still needs more "little men". No experience or muscle is necessary, just a willingness to practice and learn.

Hop To Follow Game Saturday

The first post-holiday activity sponsored by Loyola's Block "L" Club will be the annual "Athlete's Fete" which will be held immediately after the Mt. St. Mary's game Saturday in Cohn Hall.

President Bill Phillips has urged that all members attend this dance. Tickets may be purchased from Phillips or at the athletic office in the gym.

Banquet Set

The group will next sponsor the Father-Son Banquet, to be held in Cohn Hall on February 15. Immediately following will be the Loyola-St. Peter's basketball game. Lack of tickets forced postponement of this affair, originally scheduled for December 1. Guest speakers are now being lined up by the club. All who wish to attend should see any member to arrange details.

Attendance Lags

Phillips has asked that all members of the club be reminded that attendance at previous meetings has not been up to expectations.

J. H. U. Trails Hounds 42-13

This is the fourth in a series of articles about the colleges and universities that Loyola meets in Mason-Dixon play.

This article is concerned with a school just around the corner, the Johns Hopkins University.

Recognized as one of the first true universities in the United States, it was incorporated in 1867 by Johns Hopkins, a Quaker merchant of Baltimore, who bequeathed $7,000,000 to be divided equally for the founding of a university and a hospital. Instruction in the University was begun in 1876, three years after Mr. Hopkins' death.

Former All-American Coaches

Under the direction of Marshall Turner, Jr., the present Athletic Director, Hopkins participates in ten intercollegiate sports. Varsity football and lacrosse are under the supervision of Wilson Fewster, former Bluejay All-American in lacrosse.

The J.H.U. campus, spreading over four blocks in Northeast Baltimore, has several athletic fields and tennis courts, a gymnasium holding approximately one thousand persons and a stadium that holds 4,500.

Loyola Holds Big Lead

Throughout the years Loyola has always enjoyed a close relationship with the Bluejays. The Greyhounds and Jays compete in nine out of ten intercollegiate sports offered at Loyola. Due to the nearness of the schools, a friendly rivalry exists between Loyola and Hopkins, especially in basketball and lacrosse.

The greatest rivalry exists between the respective basketball teams. Although the Hounds have a considerable lead in total games won at this point, the contest always affords considerable interest and spirit. In fifty-six meetings, Loyola has been victorious forty-two times, while Hopkins has conquered on thirteen occasions. The result of one game is uncertain.

McCulluogh-Angelo Battle Looms In Crucial M-D Test Saturday

by Dave Bryan and Jack Shriver

Mt. St. Mary's, Loyola's arch rival and defending Mason-Dixon champion, will meet the Greyhounds here Saturday at 8:45 in a clash that brings together two teams unbeaten in league play and the conference's top centers.

Chairle McCullough, 6'8" Hound who boasts a twenty-three point average, will face two-year all-league pivot man Sal Angelo for the first time.

The Hounds will be out to revenge last year's 84-65 setback by the Mounts in the M-D title game, in which Angelo caged thirty points and grabbed twenty-eight rebounds.

McCullough, Angelo or sophomore Jack Sullivan who twice this season has cracked the forty-plus mark, appear capable of breaking the Evergreen Gym individual high-game mark of forty-four, set last year by Loyola's Joel Hittleman. The Mounts' Eddie Bals is also currently on a scoring spree, having hit double figures in his last three tilts.

Roanoke Next Home Game

After the Mount test, Loyola will travel to American University in Washington next Thursday, and then up to Buffalo to face a highly touted Canisius College quint. Friday, February 4, the Hounds will play host to Roanoke, last year's regular season champion.

On Wednesday night, January 12, the Greyhounds traveled to Western Maryland to cop their third Mason-Dixon win, 84-72. Charlie McCullough, as usual, led the scoring in an unusually close game, sinking his season's high of 39 points. Jim Staiti, Jim Allenbaugh, Harp Fitzgerald and Jerry Komin also helped the cause.

Washingtno Bows

In Chestertown on the fifteenth, the top scorers in the Mason-Dixon came together. McCullough scored eighteen points and Jack Bergan of Washington College collected seventeen tallies. Loyola also took this scrap by a close score, 65-60. Jim Staiti got fourteen points for the Green and Grey quint. This gave Coach Reitz's a 4-0 conference record going into the Mt. St. Mary's tilt and left these two teams, along with Hopkins, as the only undefeated squads in the M-D wheel.

The highest scoring in league history has marked the first half of Mason-Dixon play. Hopkins and the Towson State Teachers outfits, like Loyola, for the first time broke the century mark this season. Bridgewater, like the professional Boston Celtics, has averaged over one-hundred points in its four conference frays.

Warren Beuhler (5) slaps rebound from Charlie McCullough as Jim Staiti and Matt White (24) watch in the first Hound game of the season.

Seton Hall, rated twentieth in the nation by the Associated Press, downed Loyola, 84-71, in South Orange, New Jersey, January 8. Although Charlie McCullough copped high scoring honors with twenty-two tallies, the Hounds sank only seventeen out of thirty-nine from the foul line. Jim Staiti was the only other Hound to hit double figures, with thirteen points.

Four Records Set

Twice during the Christmas holidays the rampaging Greyhounds topped the century mark to set four school records. December 18 they trampled Catholic U., 107-60, hitting one hundred points for the first time in the school's history. January 2 the Hounds again ran rampant, over Scranton U., scoring 103 points. This game set three Gym records: a high of forty field goals, a two-team score for one half and a high for two-team scores in one game.

The Greyhound quintet opened their Mason-Dixon schedule December 15 and wasted no time in taking a league lead, with a 99-93 win over Baltimore University. Big Charlie McCullough, in complete control of the boards while in the game, poured in twenty-eight points, followed by Allenbaugh, Staiti, Komin and Fitzgerald, all of whom hit double figures. Loyola pulled away for an early lead against the Bees and the reserves staved off a late rally to win.

McKavitt Held Scoreless

In the Catholic U. game, McCullough, who towered over the tallest of his opponents, had another good night. Although he played less than half of the game, he racked up twenty-six points. Coach Lefty Reitz used his small men for the greater part of the game.

The Hounds held the C.U. star, Tom McKavitt, scoreless. He previously had had a twenty-eight point average.

In the finale of 1954 the Green and Grey broke their three-game winning streak by bowing to Saint Francis of Brooklyn, 97-75. Playing good ball during the first half, with Charlie McCullough showing the way, the Hounds were behind 40-36 at the intermission. The second half told a different tale, however, as St. Francis scored fifty-seven points to run away with the game. McCullough totaled thirty-four points, his season high as of January 11, in the losing effort.

Four Hit Double Figures

The Jesuit Mission benefit game on Sunday, January 2, against Scranton University was won by the Hounds, 103-72. Big Charlie McCullough pushed in twenty points; Jim Staiti, nineteen; and Jerry Komin, eighteen.

The Hounds, behind 23-13 early in the game, pulled out to a 56-31 half-time lead and from then on were not headed. With just a few minutes remaining in the game, Gene Grimes scored the one hundred and first point and Jerry Komin sank the final field goal. Four men hit double figures for the Hounds, while Scranton was led by their 6'6" center Bob Bessoir, who had seventeen tallies.

The Rifle Team

The Greyhound Rifle Team is now practicing on the range at Johns Hopkins, pending repairs to Loyola's range. This year's team, although it has suffered several major setbacks, has high hopes for the future. Over twenty men fired in the qualifying round last December 9. Among those there were twelve freshmen. Skirka, Burns, Gorsuch, Duley, and Fonte are some of the freshmen who are strong contender for berths on the top ten.

Captain Shelton does not expect this year's squad to break any records, but there are very good chances that the squad will improve with every match. The Captain also has expressed his gratitude to Johns Hopkins for the kindness rendered to members of the team. The new practice hours have been set for Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 6:00 p.m.

All berths are still open to anyone who thinks he can unseat the freshman fixers.

Here is a part of Loyola's swimming team in their losing effort to Villanova. The Hounds hope to capture the Mason-Dixon swimming title again this year.

Tankmen Win Diving, Relays, Drop Dashes

The Loyola Swimming Team opened its campaign this year with a 59-25 loss to Villanova University. The Greyhounds won but two of the ten events in absorbing one of their worst beatings in recent years. These events were the 400-yard free-style relay, won by Charlie Foos, Pat McDonough, Fred Schildwachter and Frank Simansky; and the diving, won by Elmer Medley.

With Lou McComas graduated and Jim Bracken ineligible, the Greyhounds do not have an experienced point scorer to lead them in defense of their Mason-Dixon championship this year, as they did last year.

Good Divers

However, in future events the Greyhounds will be well fortified in the diving events with Elmer Medley, last year's conference champion, and Wayne White, a newcomer to the squad who has shown much promise in practice. Coach Bill Klarner's squad will engage in seven dual meets and the Mason-Dixon tournament.

This year's team has eight lettermen returning from last year's championship team.

Donegan Back

Captain Larry Donegan, who won the 440-yard free-style crown, will again be in action. Pat McDonough and Fred Schildwachter, sophomore sprinters, will be counted on for the 440-yard free-style relay. Senior Frank Simansky, another veteran performer, also will compete in the relays again but may confine most of his activity to the 100-yard dash.

Other veterans are Bob Duke, sophomore breaststroker; Dick Wheeler, senior free-styler; and Gil Wheeler, a junior who swims the individual medley. Loyola's distance man is Ray Penn.

The remaining schedule:

Feb. 2	Gustavus Adolphus	Home
12	Dickinson	Away
17	Shepherd	Home
19	Catholic U.	Away
26	LaSalle	Home
Mar. 1-2	Mason-Dixon Tournament	Away

Hound Among High Scorers

Charlie McCullough ranked second, behind Mt. St. Mary's Jack Sullivan in total-points-scored among state cagers this season, through games of last Saturday.

The 6'8½" Greyhound stood fourth in average-points-per-game with 23.6 among state scorers and second in this department with 26.5, in Mason-Dixon conference tilts.

State Scorers

Bergan, Washington, 186; Taylor, Hopkins, 63; Sullivan, Mt. St. Mary's 321, and McCullough, Loyola, 283, are the leading state scorers.

Conference Scorers

Bergan Washington, 135; McCullough, Loyola 106; Taylor, Hopkins, 63, and Pence, Bridgewater, 98, are the leading conference scorers.

Sal Angelo, Mt. St. Mary's all-conference center, although he has averaged less than twelve points per game this season, has scored exactly one thousand points in his college career, going into last night's game at Western Maryland. Sullivan and Angelo will be here Saturday.

Frosh Cagers Beaten By Terrors; Down Dons

Loyola College's freshman basketball team, which has not had much luck as yet, will take on the Mountaineer freshman team next Saturday immediately before the varsity game.

McGuire Back

After almost a month on the injured list, Denny McGuire, frosh stalwart, returned to the lineup in the Western Maryland game but wasn't quite enough to help the junior Greyhounds as they went down to defeat by a 58-45 score. High-point man for the losers was Jack Cummings with 16.

Dons Downed

After losing four straight games, the freshmen came through with a 55-49 victory here January 2, over Loyola High School.

Set-shooting Jack Henneman and Jack Cummings, backed by Barry Goodhues, proved too much for the high school quint. The junior Greyhounds led all the way and successfully fought off a final drive by the Dons.

Never Discouraged

Commenting on the early-season losses, Coach Bill Phillips was quick to point out that the team has yet to quit, although they have been at times twenty or more points back. They have continually come from behind to tie and even to go ahead, only to lose contests in the waning moments.

The combined halftime deficit in the losses to Georgetown, Villanova, Baltimore and Towson was a meager fifteen points.

Phillips commented that "the team continues to show the fight and hustle which has been the outstanding feature of the Greyhound pups down through the years."

Streaks Shutout 'Shells For Title; Frosh Bowls 166

In intramural activities following the Christmas holidays, the following results were posted:

1. The Streaks twice blanked the previously-unbeaten Bozel Bombshells, 6-0, January 5, in sudden death and a playoff to win their second straight football championship.

2. Twelve basketball teams, headed by the defending-champion Streaks and a faculty five, entered the double-elimination tournament. Play will begin in February.

3. Freshman Ed Coady, of the Vets, bowled an opening-day score of 166 to take a strong lead in the race for high game honors.

4. Only seven foul-shooting entries and nine ping-pong entries were turned in as of January 15.

5. Swimming has been postponed indefinitely because no teams have entered.

Streaks Triumph

In the football game which finally ended the grid campaign after thirteen weeks, Jim Young won the individual scoring title with 30 points by scoring after six minutes of sudden death. He tallied with a midfield interception of a pass thrown by Moe Bozel, who was runner-up in the scoring derby with 24 points.

Early in the ensuing playoff, Paul Feild caught a short toss from Frank Dickson for the game's only score.

Fast Safety-Men

Mike Voelkel completed three passes each to Bozel and Bob Gross in the playoff, but neither could outrun the Streaks' safety-men; Feild, Dickson and Ed Dentz.

Other Streaks in the games were Paul Buckmaster, Bob Gaither, Ed Kelly, Joe Mace and Gene Uhl.

Although Bill Phillips, Marsh Love and Dick Snyder missed the games, the Bombshells fielded eight regulars: Bozel, Fred Buchness, Gross, Ken Gue, Al Rabassa, Tom Reynolds, Moe Sullivan and Voelkel.

Donohue Returns

In three of the four winter leagues the 1954 champion is defending. Jim Donohue, ping-pong titlist, will get competition from Ken Adams, Dick Coyle, John Kwedar, Vince McCorry, Pat McDonough, Tom Vavrina, Bill Weglicki and last year's runner-up, Tom Coyle.

The Rambling Rebels, defending bowling champions, opened by winning two of three games from the sophomore Yanks. Ed Fiek, of the Rebels, blasted a 142 game for second place honors behind Coady in the individual high-game race.

Schilling High

Moe Schilling, of the Yanks, who won last year with 161, rolled 107, 111, 104 to become one of only three keglers to bowl over 100 in all three opening-day games. George Turner, of the Firehouse Five, scored 106, 110, 115; and Nick Lombardi, of the freshman Eels, posted 101, 114, 107. Coady rolled 104, 166, 95; and Fick notched 105, 142, 89.

In the foul-shooting tournament, entrants are Harry Becker, Fred Greenwell, Andy Maybo, Jack McLaughlin, Joe Miko and Bernard Rosen.

NOTICE

There will be a meeting for all candidates and returning lettermen of the Lacrosse Team on Friday, Feb. 4 at 4 P.M. in the Rec Room in the Gym.

GREYHOUND SPORTS

Running With The Hounds

by Jim Cole, Sports Editor

The highly regarded Mountaineers of Mt. St. Mary's College will invade our Evergreen gym next Saturday for their annual visit. All who have seen these games know of the excellent Mount spirit. This was clearly demonstrated in the finals of the Mason-Dixon tournament last year, when, having defeated Loyola, they proceeded to rub in their victory by proclaiming to all present that from then on they would show no mercy to our Greyhounds: If the Carroll Countians defeat Loyola, their whole season is considered a success, regardless of the fact that they might have lost every other game. This will not be the case this year, for results of games played up to this date are entirely in favor of the Mount. They have lost but two games out of twelve and each of these by only two points. Included among their victories are wins over St. Francis of Brooklyn, St. Francis of Loretto, Pa. and St. Peters. Our Greyhounds will enter this game as the decided underdog. The team needs your help ! ! ! Up to this time, student support has been only fair. If you back your team with some real cheering, I am sure that they will not let you down. With your support, an upset can be accomplished.

Immediately following the game, Loyola's Athletic Association will hold its annual "Athlete's Fete" in Cohn Hall. The dance has been very successful in the past and Bill Phillips, president of the Block "L", says that this one will be the best yet. The very popular Reds Popoli and his orchestra will provide the music for the night. Tickets are on sale for $2.30. This price includes both the game and the dance.

Swimming Team

The Loyola swimming team, which has been making a habit of winning the Mason-Dixon championship, has started another season. Led by returning seniors Frank Simansky and Fred Buchness, the tankmen expect a good year. However, the team will sorely miss Big Ed McComas, who could have taken up the slack left by his brother Lou, and Jim Bracken, who probably will see action in the second semester, but who has missed both the Villanova and Georgetown meets.

Thanks To Alumni

The two new scoreboards which will be in use for the first time next Saturday were given to the school by the Loyola College alumni. The scoreboards will be placed at half-court on the press boxes on either side of the gym and will be a great improvement over the service provided by the old one. Many thanks to the alumni.

Streaks Triumph

In a game that had been much delayed by rain, snow, and conflicting schedules, the Junior Streaks defeated the heavily favored Bozel Bombshells in two games to win their second straight intramural football championship. With the Senior's heavy line hampered by the muddy field, they seemed to lack the spark that they had in their previous victory over the Streaks. Much credit should go to the Streaks for the fine finish that they put on, after a near disastrous mid-season slump. Congratulations Streaks ! ! !

GYM JOTTINGS

by Ed Dentz

Intramurals Commissioner Ed Fiek has announced that basketball will begin the first week after exams, and it looks as if the team to beat will be the Junior "Streaks". From this angle, it looks as though Jimmy Vaeth and Company will provide the most opposition to the Streaks, who will be fighting to garner their second straight intramural crown.

Unsung Heroes

Gym Jottings is presenting to the "Unsung Heroes" of intramural football, Tony Serio and Dave Greenwood, a full year's subscription to The Greyhound. These boys deserve a lot of credit for their rugged but unheralded play throughout the season.

If all the athletes drank as much as they said they drank over the holidays, National Brewery will be working overtime for quite a spell catching up on its supply.

Come February, Loyola will lose one of its best boosters, Maurice "Moe" Sullivan for four and one half years has been the staunchest kind of rooter for the Hounds. Because of sickness, Moe's graduation in '54 was delayed. Always an active participant in intramurals, Moe will be missed sorely by one and all.

For the Mt. St. Mary's game next Saturday, two brand new scoreboards, gifts from the alumni, will be used for the first time.
